

BLP At Red Oaks

In Red Oaks, BLP(which stands for building learning power)is extremely important because it is what makes our school a fantastic place to learn .BLP makes Red Oaks students marvellous at learning. However, these skills aren't only used in school they are used outside of school such as football ,hockey and other team sports. Another thing were you use collaboration is at home if you helping your parents or siblings with things around the house.

Hope you enjoy by Jan, Cayden and Finley

Perseverance

Perseverance is one of the most important BLP muscle. Out of the 17 BLP muscles I feel that this is the one of the most important ones that you will use through out life . This is the most well known one that adults know and children know all around the world . In school we have got a saying for perseverance if you try try try you can can can . Perseverance means that if something is bothering you and you cant do it you will keep going through it.

Collaboration

Collaboration means that you are working well with others as a team in order to achieve something. Despite the fact that collaboration can be tricky sometimes, you can feel it is one of the most important BLP muscle. We use collaboration all the time everywhere but we just don't realise. Such as football and other team sports and at school.
