

Hi everyone,

This is a little message to say hello and to say how much I have missed you over these past 8 weeks. They've been a crazy 8 weeks with lots of time spent at home missing your friends and family members, but don't worry guys things will get back to normal soon and you will be able to come back to school which we are so excited about. We can't wait to see you. School will be a little bit different guys - you won't be able to hug your friends like you might like to but its OKAY because you can smile, we can chat and most importantly we can play together which is something to really look forward to.

We also wanted to say a massive well done for all of your hard work that you have been doing at home and a huge well done to all of your grown-ups; you have done amazingly with your children- we know that that is not easy in these current circumstances. So well done guys - we miss you - we can't wait to see you and that time is coming soon. Lots of love, bye.
