

Hi Sycamore Class,

I bet it's weird seeing my face and hearing my voice again! I just wanted to send a little message to say I'm really missing you all but I've enjoyed seeing what you've been getting up to on Class Dojo so thank you for sharing that with me. Don't worry of some days you get loads done and other days you get nothing done; it's all about balance and making sure you're happy and healthy is more important! ☺ I also want to say a BIG THANK YOU to your parents as this hasn't been easy.

It looks like we might be back together soon so I'm looking forward to seeing all of your faces and giving you some high fives from two meters away. For now, remember I'm always available on class dojo for you to send me any questions and keep sharing what you've been getting up to. Here's a little bit of what I've been getting up to...
